THURSDAY EVENING, JANUARY 24

THE IMPEACHMENT .- The Northern papers of all political complexions, are begining to talk more seriously than ever, of the proposed impeachment of the President, and of the settled purpose of the Radical leaders to convict him and remove him from office; and that, too, by a Congress, in which several of the States have no representatives in either House. It is thought by many, now, who have heretofore doubted as to the reality of the threatened de sign, that the determination is made, and that the public pulse is, or will be, in a month or two, "at fever heat," and the "patient prepared for the experiment." The opinion now is, or seems to be, that the impeachment will be ordered by the next House of Representatives, which meets on the 4th of March, immediately upon the close of the present session of Congress. We can hardly yet bring ourselves to believe that this scheme will be persisted in. But, there can be no calculation made, as to the influence that reason, and justice, and policy, will have, or rather ought to have, upon the minds of the legislative rulers, in shaping their future course. Literally, it seems, that "madness rules the hour." For a temporary political or party purpose, - a purpose which might otherwise be practically eftected in two years—the peace of the country may be put in jeopardy, and all its interests, financial, commercial, its business of all descriptions and in all sections, seriously injured if not irretrievably ruined. We say, may bebecause even in extreme cases, God forbid that there should be any more civil commotion! If it should come, the South certainly cannot be accused of desiring to bring it onbecause the South is appealing for restoration and quiet-and deprecates every measure which is likely to produce future disturbance. The South wishes to stand aloof from the strife of factions, and the mischievous doings of political demagogues.

The newspapes are properly "coming down" upon the various "Gift Enterprises," as they are styled, started in different portions of the country, being, in effect, lotteries not licensed by law, and far more objectional than any of the regularly authorized lotteries of former days. Many of these "Gift Enterprises" are mere swindling schemes, and all of them designed to put money in the pockets of those concerned in carrying them on. The late Crosby affair in Chicago, has not helped the matter, in the least, in relation to the policy of allowing these concerns to be continued.

N. P. Willis, a notice of whose death, has been published in the Gazette, was, in his younger days, one of the most popular writers of the country, and some of his poems and prose essays, had "a run" in England, as well as at home. He was devoted to light literature, and had formerly a graceful and pleasant style, agreeable to most readers. Latterly, ill-health told upon him, in various ways.

Poland -The London Times says that re cent Russian Imperial decrees abolish all that remained of Poland as a separate kingdom. Russia has had her will, and Polish nationality ceases to exist.

It will be seen that the bill prescribing eaths for officers of the government, members of the bar, &c., passed the House of Representatives, yesterday.

THE TURKISH EMPIRE. - The intelligence received by telegram shows that affairs in the East are gradually tending toward a conclusion. The Candians claim another decisive victory, and the Turkish troops have been compelled to evacuate the only forts which for years they have held in the principality of Servia. The "Siek Man" is rapidly sinking. Disintegration | Republican member of the House of Represenis going on at a rate which is perhaps sufficiently rapid, and if the neighboring Powers will but stand aloof and content themselves with being mere onlookers, the time is not, perhaps, so very far distant when Turkey in Europe will be numbered with the things that were .-On the European side of the Bosphorns the Mussulmans are but one to four of the Christians. SHERIFFS AND TAX-PAYERS. - In the House of Delegates on Monday a bill to extend for two months beyond the time required by law, the time at which Sheriffs are to pay in the revenue for 1866, was passed by a vote of 73 to 1. The extension does not apply to licenses. The Senate has yet to act upon the bill, but it is believed they will pass it. Should it become a law it will greatly relieve the present pressure against the people for taxes, and enable many of them to make some arrangement for their payment without sacrificing their property .-Lynchburg News.

VIRGINIA LEGISLATURE.—In the Senate, on Tuesday, Mr. Alexander introduced a resolution in regard to contracts with freedmen, which directs attention to an important subject. The present law imposes a fine of $20 upon any person who shall induce a negro to violate his contract with his employer. Whether this fine is to go to the employer whose contract has been violated, as damages for the violation, or to the Commonwealth as a penalty for violation of law, is a question.

A most interesting debate, took place on the bill to authorize residents of Richmond to borrow money at a rate of interest higher than six per cent. The bill was pending when the Senate adjourned. It is intimated by some of not frozen over, but a crossing effected on large the advocates of the repeal of the law restricting the rate of interest, that if all other measures fail, a bill will be introduced modifying the law, upon condition that it shall be ratifled by the people at the polls on the 4th Thursday n May.
